This chapter has been updated to reflect changes to the federal skilled worker provisions as per the recent regulatory amendment package. The following sections have been revised:

Section 6.2 – Family members of skilled workers:

Clarifications have been made in keeping with procedures outlined in OP 2, Processing members of the family class - age of accompanying dependent children is locked in on date of application, but dependence is not. At the time of application, children over the age of 22 who are deemed dependent due to full-time study or mental/physical condition must still meet these requirements at the time of visa issuance; advice to the applicant that non-accompanying children in the legal custody of the spouse, ex-spouse or common-law partner should be examined if the applicant wants to sponsor them in the future, otherwise they will be excluded from the family class.

Section 9 – Minimum requirements of a skilled worker - As with full-time work experience, part-time work experience must be continuous for the one-year eligibility requirement of the class [R75(2)]

Section 9.2 – Settlement funds - funds required include both accompanying and non-accompanying dependants;

LICO levels updated.

Section 10.2 – Education - guidance is provided on how medical degrees should be considered; essentially medical doctor degrees are generally considered first-level degrees in the same way as a Bachelor of Law or a Bachelor in Pharmacology. Officers should be guided by how the local authorities responsible for educational or training institutions recognize the credential.

Sections 10.4 to 10.10 - Language - relevant sections have been updated to reflect RIM messages 04-002 and 04-016 sent to visa offices earlier this year regarding clarifications on "Language Proficiency Guidelines."

Section 10.6 – Approved testing organizations:

test results must not be older than one year on the date of application; test results from a testing organization that has not been designated by the Department are not "conclusive evidence" of language ability and may only be considered as part of an overall written submission.

Section 10.10 – Integrity concerns on language proficiency during an interview:

This is a new section which outlines instructions presented in RIM message 04-016.

Section 10.13 – Arranged employment arranged employment must be in National Occupational Classification (NOC) Skill Type 0 or Skill Level A or B [R82(2)];

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

in the case of applicants holding a work permit for a job for which they have a permanent offer, the work permit must be valid on the date of application and at the time the visa is issued. This replaces the requirement that the work permit be valid for 12 months from date of application [R82(2)(a)(iii)]; temporary work permit holders under R205(c)(ii), such as post-graduates and spouses/common-law partners of temporary skilled workers/foreign students, are now eligible to apply for arranged employment points under R82(2)(b); eligible temporary work permit holders not currently covered may now apply for arranged employment with an arranged employment opinion (AEO) from HRSDC [new R82(2)(d)].

instructions are provided on how to process applications with arranged employment under R82(2)(c) in keeping with RIM message 04-033 on "Post resumption protocol AEO guidelines."

Section 11.3– Substituted evaluation

this section has been updated to reflect instructions outlined in RIM message 04-011 "Substituted Evaluation for the Federal Skilled Worker Class."

Date: 2003-07-09

Skilled Worker applicants are awarded points for language ability based on either language test results from a designated organization, or other evidence provided in a written submission. The Paris Chamber of Commerce has been designated as a Third Party Language Testing (TPLT) organization, and offers the Test d'Évaluation de Français (TEF). There are test score equivalency charts for the alignment of TEF scores for all four abilities (reading, listening, writing and speaking) to the Canadian Language Benchmarks (CLB)/Standards Linguistiques Canadiens (SLC) in Section 10.8 of the OP 6, as well as on the website and in the Skilled Worker application guide.

The number of points required to attain a certain level on the TEF test has changed. The Paris Chamber of Commerce has made small changes to the number of points required for each level in reading and listening in order to ensure the reliability of their results. Points equivalencies for writing and speaking have also been added. In the previous version of the OP 6, writing and speaking equivalencies for the TEF were given as levels only. This change in points could affect the number of points some applicants are awarded for language. Visa officers should ensure that they use the new, updated grid on the website when determining the equivalent Benchmark/Standard for a given TEF points score.

Date: 2003-04-11

Clarifications/changes have been made to Manual chapter OP 6 (Federal Skilled Workers) regarding the following:

proof of language ability, see Section 8.1; substituted evaluation, see Section 9.1 and Section 11.3;

revised figures for settlement funds regarding Low Income Cut-off (LICO), see Section 9.2; and distance learning credentials for "Education" points, see Section 10.2.

5. Departmental policy

5.1. Ministerial Instructions – effective February 27, 2008

On November 28, 2008, the Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism issued Ministerial Instructions which applied only to applications or requests made on or after February 27, 2008. The Instructions provide for the following Federal Skilled Worker applications to be placed into processing immediately upon receipt:

- Federal Skilled Workers with an Arranged Employment Offer (AEO);
- Federal Skilled Workers residing legally in Canada for at least one year as temporary foreign workers or international students; or
- Federal Skilled Workers with at least one year of continuous full-time (or equivalent part-time) paid work experience in the last ten years in one or more of the occupations listed in the Ministerial Instructions effective February 27, 2008.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

5.2. Ministerial Instructions – effective June 26, 2010

The second set of Ministerial Instructions (MI), issued on June 26, 2010, introduced a number of changes, including a revised list of eligible occupations, annual limits to the number of applications to be considered for processing in the FSW class, as well as revised eligibility criteria with respect to evidence of official language proficiency and work experience.

FSW applications received by the Centralized Intake Office (CIO) on or after June 26, 2010, accompanied by the results of the principal applicant's English or French language proficiency assessment, not exceeding the identified caps and that meet either of the following criteria shall be placed into processing:

- Applications from skilled workers with evidence of experience in the last ten years under one or more of the National Occupation Classification (NOC) codes specified in the MI up to a maximum of 20,000 new, complete applications per year with no more than 1,000 applications of this maximum in any one NOC category;
- or
- Applications submitted with an Arranged Employment Offer (AEO) consistent with requirements of subsection R82(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations (IRPR).

Note: As of June 26, 2010, the stream for temporary foreign workers and international students living in Canada for one year no longer exists. Students and temporary foreign workers applying in the FSW class on or after June 26, 2010, must meet the criteria of the second set of MIs in order to be eligible for processing.

Limit on the number of applications to be processed per year

A maximum of 20,000 FSW applications, without an AEO, will be considered for processing each year by the CIO. Applications with an AEO will not be counted against the 20,000 cap.

Within the 20,000 cap, a maximum of 1,000 FSW applications per NOC code will be considered for processing each year.

In calculating the caps, the CIO will consider applications in the order of the date they are received. Applications received on the same date will be considered for processing having regard to routine office procedures.

For the unique purpose of calculating the caps, the first year will begin on June 26, 2010, and end on June 30, 2011. Subsequent years will be calculated from July 1st to June 30th, unless otherwise indicated in a future set of MI.

5.3. Applying the Ministerial Instructions

Applications received before February 27, 2008

All applications received prior to February 27, 2008, are to be processed pursuant to legislation in effect at the time of application. For information on processing applications received prior to February 27, 2008, please see Section 10.

Applications received on or after February 27, 2008 and before June 26, 2010

Federal Skilled Worker applications received on or after February 27, 2008 and before June 26, 2010, must meet the requirements in the first set of Ministerial Instructions in order to be eligible for processing. All FSW applications are to be submitted directly to the Centralized Intake Office

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

(CIO) in CPC-Sydney. At the CIO, an initial assessment of whether the application corresponds to the Ministerial Instructions is made. If the CIO refers the application to a visa office, the visa office is responsible for making a final determination of eligibility for processing. For CIO procedures, please see Section 8.

Applications received on or after June 26, 2010

FSW applications received on or after June 26, 2010, must meet the requirements in the second set of the MI in order to be considered eligible for processing. The CIO will assess complete applications against the MI to determine whether applicants are eligible for processing. Those determined to be eligible will be placed into processing. Applications that receive a negative determination of eligibility will not be processed and will receive a full refund. For CIO procedures, please see section 7.

Note: Any applications received by the CIO which are not Federal Skilled Worker applications are to be returned to the applicant.

Requests for humanitarian and compassionate consideration – Ministerial Instructions

The Ministerial Instructions state “Requests made on the basis of Humanitarian and Compassionate grounds that accompany a Federal Skilled Worker application not identified for processing under Ministerial Instructions will not be processed.”

The Ministerial Instructions allow examination of Humanitarian and Compassionate (H&C) considerations within the Federal Skilled Worker class only if a FSW class application is eligible for processing.

The Instructions prevent the use of requests for H&C considerations to overcome the eligibility requirements for processing under the FSW class.

5.4. Fees

Applicants are required to pay two fees:

- the cost recovery fee;
- the right of permanent residence fee (RPRF).

Cost recovery fee

R295 specifies who must pay the cost-recovery fees and the fees for processing an application for a permanent resident visa. The cost recovery fee is payable at the time the application is made to the CIO.

The cost recovery fee must be paid only for persons who intend to immigrate to Canada. This includes the principal applicant and any accompanying family members.

An applicant may withdraw an application and receive a refund of the cost recovery fee any time before processing of the application begins at a visa office or at the CIO. This rule also applies to applications that are not eligible for processing according to the Ministerial Instructions. Once processing has begun at a visa office or at the CIO, the cost recovery fee is not refundable.

Right of Permanent Residence Fee (RPRF)

R303 specifies that RPRF fees are payable for the principal applicant and their spouse or common-law partner.

Payment of the right of permanent residence fee (RPRF) is required before issuance of permanent resident visas.

Applicants may make their RPRF payment any time before permanent resident visas are issued.

Successful applicants who decide not to use their visas must return them to the issuing visa office in order to obtain a RPRF refund.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Unsuccessful applicants who have paid the RPRF should be informed as part of the refusal letter that they are entitled to a refund, and be given an approximate time frame for its receipt.

In the case of files transferred from one visa office to another, the visa office that finalizes the case is responsible for processing any RPRF refund. This instruction does not apply to applications received by or transferred to the CIO. In these cases, the CIO is responsible for the RPRF refund.

Note: Please refer to Operational Bulletins 120 (Appendix C) and OB 121 for cost recovery and refund procedures at visa offices and at the CIO.

5.5. Self-assessment tools

The Department's Web site (<http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/index.asp>) contains links to a number of on-line self-assessment tools, which enable prospective applicants to:

- obtain all necessary information regarding the skilled worker selection system;
- obtain information about their NOC category and skill level; and
- make an informal assessment of their own ability to qualify before expending the money and the effort on the submission of a formal application.

Visa offices with their own web sites are encouraged to construct direct links to the departmental Skilled Worker page, which includes the on-line self-assessment tool.

Prospective applicants should be instructed to access and download the instruction guide [IMM EG7000] themselves.

5.6. Procedural fairness

See OP 1 for details on procedural fairness.

6. Definitions

6.1. National Occupation Classification (NOC)

The NOC is the official governmental classification system of occupations in the Canadian economy. It describes duties, skills, aptitudes, and work settings for occupations in the Canadian labour market.

Note: For the purposes of skilled worker applications, the "Employment Requirements" listed in the description of each occupation are not applicable [refer to R80(3)].

Visa offices should have paper copies of the NOC 2006. The NOC 2006 can also be accessed on-line at <http://www5.hrsdc.gc.ca/NOC/>

6.2. Restricted occupations

R73 defines restricted occupations as those so designated by the Minister following a review of labour market activity and consultations with other stakeholders.

- R75(2)(a) stipulates that experience in a restricted occupation cannot be used to satisfy the minimal requirements of a skilled worker.
- R80(2) stipulates that no points can be given under the experience factor of the skilled worker selection criteria for experience in a restricted occupation.

At the time of printing, there were no occupations designated as restricted. However, for the most up-to-date listing, refer to the skilled worker Web site at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/index.asp>.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

6.3. Education

- “Educational credential” is defined in R73 as any diploma, degree or trade or apprenticeship credential issued on the completion of a program of study or training at an educational or training institution recognized by the authorities responsible for registering, accrediting, supervising and regulating such institutions in the country of issue.
- “Full-time” is defined in R78(1) as requiring at least 15 hours of instruction per week during the academic year, including any period of training in the workplace that forms part of the course of instruction.
- “Full-time equivalent” means, in respect of part-time or accelerated studies, the period of time that would have been required to complete those studies on a full-time basis.

6.4. Family members of skilled workers

Please refer to R1(3) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations (IRPR) for the definition of family members.

Note: The age of accompanying dependent children is locked in on the date of application, but dependence is not. If a child is under the age of 22 on the date of application but 22 years of age or older when the visa is issued, they may still be included as part of the parent's application as an accompanying dependent, if they are still not married or not in a common-law relationship or, if they are dependent pursuant to R2(b)(ii). A child who is 22 years of age or older and who is considered a dependant child on the date of application by virtue of R2(b)(ii) or (iii), i.e. financially dependent due to full-time study or physical or mental condition, must still meet the requirements of these provisions at the time of visa issuance in order to be included in the parent's application. See OP 2, Processing Members of the Family Class, for more information on who qualifies as a dependent child.

All family members, accompanying or not, are required to be examined unless a properly delegated officer decides otherwise. Normally, any inadmissible family member would render the principal applicant inadmissible as well [A42; R23]. There are, however, two exceptions to this rule. The first is the separated spouse of the applicant. The second is when the applicant or an accompanying family member does not have legal custody of their dependent child or when they are not empowered to act on behalf of that child, by virtue of a court order or written agreement or by operation of law.

If an applicant's separated spouse or the applicant's children who are in the custody of someone else are inadmissible, their inadmissibility would not render the applicant inadmissible. Because separated spouses can reconcile and custody arrangements for children can change, examination is required in order to safeguard the future right to sponsor them in the family class. If these family members are not examined, they cannot be sponsored in the Family Class in the future under R117(9)(d). Please see OP 2, section 5.11 for more information on examination of non-accompanying family members.

Family members can be added to the application at any time during the process, including after the visa is issued but prior to obtaining permanent resident status. Applicants should be counselled to inform the visa office immediately if their family composition has changed. Please see OP 2, Section 7.7 for more information on adding a family member during processing.

To include adopted children, spouses, or common-law partners as accompanying family members, R4 requires that the relationship must be genuine or not one entered into primarily for immigration purposes.

If family members are added to the application during processing, they must be screened for inadmissibility before any permanent resident visa is issued.

7. Procedure: Applications received at the CIO on or after June 26, 2010

All FSW applications must be sent by applicants to the CIO. This section outlines how final determinations of eligibility for processing are to be made at the CIO. Please see the following areas for specific procedural instructions:

- Receiving the application at the CIO – section 7.1
- Assessing the applications against the MI – section 7.2
- Applications that meet the MI – section 7.3

Note: Applications received prior to June 26, 2010, are to be processed pursuant to Ministerial Instructions in effect at the time of application. For information on procedures for processing Federal Skilled Worker applications received prior to June 26, 2010, please see Sections 8, 9 and 10.

7.1. Receiving the application at the CIO

Applicants are required to submit their complete application, including required supporting documents, to the CIO. This includes all documents listed both on the CIO and visa-office-specific document checklists. As of June 26, 2010, a valid official language test result from a designated language testing agency must be submitted as part of the application.

Applications received at the CIO will first be reviewed for completeness pursuant to R10, including the following required forms, fees, information and documents:

- required forms, including a signed and completed IMM 0008E GEN containing the name, birth date, address, nationality, marital status and current immigration status of the applicant and all family members (whether accompanying or not), and identifying the principal applicant, properly completed Schedule 1's for the principal applicant, his or her spouse or common-law partner and all dependent children aged 18 and older listed on the IMM 0008, as well as a properly completed Schedule 3 for the principal applicant;
- the results of the principal applicant's English or French language test from a designated testing agency (see section 12.6)
- evidence of payment of the applicable fees (please see Section 5.4 for more information on fees);
- the visa, permit or authorization being applied for;
- the class in which the application is made;
- the Use of a Representative form, if appropriate;
- a signed statement to the effect that the information provided is complete and accurate;
- any information and documents required by the Regulations, as well as any other evidence required by the Act.

Note: Applicants must submit all documents listed both on the CIO and visa-office-specific document checklists in order for their applications to be considered complete pursuant to R10.

7.2. Assessing applications against the Ministerial Instructions issued June 26, 2010

The CIO will assess the applicant's submission as-is and make a final determination of eligibility under the MI issued on June 26, 2010. To be eligible for processing, the applicant must meet all the criteria described in the MI. If the application is eligible for processing, the applicant will be informed. Once processing has begun, the cost recovery fee is no longer refundable.

If the applicant's submission is determined to be ineligible for processing, the applicant will be informed and will receive a refund if the fee payment was processed.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Note: Missing admissibility documents, i.e., police certificates, should not hold up the final determination of eligibility for processing. Applicants have been strongly encouraged to send police certificates. If applicants cannot obtain them, they may still submit the application to the CIO without them. The CIO will not reject these applications provided it is complete in all other respects. However, if the application is placed into processing, the applicant must be ready to submit the police certificates to the visa office when requested.

Evidence to consider when making the final determination of eligibility for processing

Review the application and determine whether it meets all the criteria of the MI. For an application to be considered for processing under these Instructions, the applicant, on the date of application, must:

- have experience in the last ten years under one or more (see note below) of the National Occupation Classification (NOC) codes specified in the MI, and the application does not exceed the maximum of 20,000 new, complete applications per year with no more than 1,000 applications of this maximum in any one NOC category;

or

- have an Arranged Employment Offer (AEO) consistent with requirements of subsection R82(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations (IRPR).

Note: Applicants must have at least one year of continuous full-time or equivalent paid work experience in at least one of the listed NOCs and not combined partial year experience in multiple NOCs. Anticipated short breaks between jobs are acceptable. For example, if an applicant is employed in one occupation for a 4 month contract and before the end of that contract, has secured other employment that will begin shortly after the end of first contract, this break in continuity would be acceptable. The occupation must be listed in the MI.

Note: Arranged Employment Offer - It may or may not be evident that an applicant has an arranged employment offer. Pursuant to R82(2)(a) an arranged employment offer, along with the work permit, will be accompanied by a Labour Market Opinion (LMO) provided by Human Resources and Skills Development Canada (HRSDC)/Service Canada. In this case, it will be evident that there is an arranged employment offer. Pursuant to R82(2)(b) an arranged employment offer, along with the work permit, will be LMO-exempt. Please refer to policy manual FW 1 for exemption codes. In this case an applicant will not be able to provide documentary evidence that the work permit was issued per R204(a), R205(a) or R205(2)(c)(ii). This can only be verified by checking the exemption codes in FOSS in the document details.

7.3. Applications that meet the criteria of the Ministerial Instructions issued June 26, 2010

If the application is determined to meet the criteria of the MI and to be eligible for processing, the CIO will proceed to processing the application against the FSW minimal requirements and the cost recovery fee is no longer refundable.

8. Procedure: Applications received at the CIO on or after February 27, 2008 and before June 26, 2010

This section outlines how initial assessments of eligibility for processing at a visa office are made at the CIO. Please see the following areas for specific procedural instructions:

- Receiving the application at the CIO – Section 8.1
- Assessing applications against the Ministerial Instructions - Section 8.3
- Applications that meet the Ministerial Instructions - Section 8.4

Note: Applications received prior to February 27, 2008, are to be processed pursuant to legislation in effect at the time of application. For information on visa office procedures for processing Federal Skilled Worker applications received on or after February 27, 2008 and before June 26, 2010, please see Section 9.

8.1. Receiving the application at the CIO

Applications received at the CIO will first be reviewed for completeness pursuant to R10, including the following required forms, fees, information and documents:

- required forms, including a signed and completed IMM 0008E GEN containing the name, birth date, address, nationality, marital status and current immigration status of the applicant and all family members (whether accompanying or not), and identifying the principal applicant, properly completed Schedule 1's for the principal applicant, his or her spouse or common-law partner and all dependent children aged 18 and older listed on the IMM 0008, as well as a properly completed Schedule 3 for the principal applicant;
- evidence of payment of the applicable fees (please see Section 5.2 for more information on fees);
- the visa, permit or authorization being applied for;
- the class in which the application is made;
- the Use of a Representative form, if appropriate;
- a signed statement to the effect that the information provided is complete and accurate;
- any information and documents required by the Regulations, as well as any other evidence required by the Act.

Note: The R10 completeness check for FSW applications occurs at the CIO. Files are created for applications that are complete. If the application is referred to a visa office, the electronic file is transferred to the visa office. The applicant must submit the complete application with supporting documents to the visa office.

All other types of applications submitted to the CIO are to be sent back to applicants in their entirety (including payment) with instructions to submit the application to the appropriate visa office.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

8.2. Identification of visa office for processing of the application

For the purpose of subsection R11(1) the CIO is designated as the point of intake for FSW applications. Consequently, all applications received at the CIO are R11 compliant at that point. In addition, pursuant to paragraph 10(1)(c) of the IRPR, applicants are required to, among other things, request on their IMM 0008 (10-2008) that a specific visa office process their application for permanent residence.

The visa office requested must be one that will be able to process the application in compliance with R11. Applicants who do not complete this part of the IMM 0008 correctly, e.g. leave it blank or specify any office that is not a visa office, have not complied with paragraph R10(1)(c).

If the requirements of either R10 or R11 are not met, section 12 of the IRPR requires CIC to return the application and all documents submitted in support of the application to the applicant

Procedure

When an applicant does not specify on the IMM 0008 which visa office they are requesting to process their application, the CIO will return the application to the applicant pursuant to R12.

The CIO will accept the visa office identified by the applicant as is and will not do any in-depth checks for R11 compliance. The CIO is not responsible for assessing whether applicants are R11 compliant at the visa office specified on their IMM 0008. The onus is on the applicant to correctly identify the visa office for processing.

8.3. Assessing applications against the Ministerial Instructions

The CIO will make an initial assessment to determine whether the application should be referred to a visa office for a final determination of eligibility for processing under one of the three categories described in the Ministerial Instructions.

Evidence to consider when making the initial assessment of eligibility:

Review the application and determine whether it meets the criteria in the Ministerial Instructions. To be eligible for processing under these Instructions, the applicant on the date of application, must:

- have one year of continuous full-time (or equivalent part-time) paid work experience in the last ten years in one or more of the occupations listed in the Ministerial Instructions effective February 27, 2008; or
- have an Arranged Employment Offer; or
- be residing legally in Canada for at least one year as a temporary foreign worker or as an international student.

Note: One year continuous full-time experience - Applicants may present evidence of a combination of full-time or part-time work experience in more than one eligible NOC category in the last 10 years for the purpose of meeting the one year of continuous work experience requirement, as long as their experience adds up to at least one year.

Note: Anticipated short breaks between jobs are acceptable. For example, if an applicant is employed in one occupation for a 4 month contract and before the end of that contract, has secured other employment that will begin shortly after the end of the first contract, this break in continuity would be acceptable. The occupations must be listed in the MI.

Note: Arranged Employment Offer - It may or may not be evident that an applicant has an arranged employment offer. Pursuant to R82(2)(a) an arranged employment offer, along with the work permit, will be accompanied by a Labour Market Opinion (LMO) provided by Human Resources and Skills Development Canada (HRSDC)/Service Canada. In this case it will be evident that there is an arranged employment offer.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Note: Pursuant to R82(2)(b) an arranged employment offer, along with the work permit, will be LMO-exempt. Please refer to policy manual FW 1 for exemption codes. In this case an applicant will not be able to provide documentary evidence that the work permit was issued per R204(a), R205(a) or R205(2)(c)(ii). This can only be verified by checking the exemption codes in FOSS in the document details.

Note: Temporary Foreign Worker (TFW) or International Student - Applicants can meet the above eligibility requirement simply with evidence that their authorized period of stay has been at least one year immediately preceding the date of the application and, that throughout this period they have been either temporary foreign workers or international students, and that they are still in Canada with valid temporary resident status as either a worker or student.

Note: When the Ministerial Instructions state that applicants who have been residing legally in Canada for at least one year as a temporary foreign worker or as an international student are eligible for processing, this means that applicants must be that which they claim to be and have been so for at least the twelve months immediately prior to applying. To meet the first condition as temporary foreign worker, the applicant needs to be employed at the time of application. To meet the second condition, the applicant must have been employed for at least the twelve months immediately prior to applying. The applicant must therefore be employed and in status at the time that the application is submitted in order to be eligible for processing as a temporary foreign worker. To meet the first condition as an international student, the applicant needs to be studying at the time of application. To meet the second condition, the applicant must have been studying for at least the twelve months immediately prior to applying. The applicant must therefore be studying and in status at the time that the application is submitted in order to be eligible for processing as an international student.

Note: For international students, it is sufficient to have studied for one academic year (i.e. two terms or semesters) during one year of legal residence. For TFWs, anticipated short breaks between jobs are acceptable. For example, if an applicant is employed in one occupation for a 4-month contract and before the end of that contract, has secured other employment that will begin shortly after the end of the first contract, this break in continuity would be acceptable.

Eligibility as a TFW or international student is not limited to holders of work or study permits. Evidence of their authorized stay may include: an entry stamp in their passport, a temporary resident record, temporary resident permit, a work permit, or a study permit. Evidence of being a temporary foreign worker or international student may include: letters from employers or schools, records of pay, attendance, report cards, transcripts, etc. Evidence of being in Canada may include a residential address and correspondence sent to that address. These examples of evidence are neither exhaustive nor exclusive.

Persons in Canada who have been studying or working here throughout a one-year period, during which they were also subject to an unenforced removal order, are not legally residing in Canada. Their applications are not eligible for placement into processing under Ministerial Instructions.

Applications that do not correspond to the Ministerial Instructions are not eligible for processing. In these cases, applicants will be sent a letter indicating that they are not eligible for processing and that a refund will be issued.

The requirement that applicants be eligible on the application received date does not apply to applications received between February 27, 2008, and November 28, 2008. Someone who meets the requirements of the Ministerial Instructions today, but did not meet them on the application received date, should be assessed in relation to today's date and not the application received date. For someone who met the requirements as of the application received date, but no longer meets them, the reference point should be the application received date. The rule of thumb is to apply the requirements in a manner that favours the client. Applicants could not self screen before the Ministerial Instructions were made public.

Substituted evaluation cannot be used to overcome failure to meet the Ministerial Instructions.

If ...	Then ...
the application corresponds to	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • proceed to Section 8.4

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

the Instructions
the application does not correspond to the Instructions	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• record outcome and reasons in CAIPS;• send a letter to inform the client (see Appendix D for sample letter);• initiate a refund.

8.4. Applications that correspond to the Ministerial Instructions

If the application is referred to a visa office, the CIO will record notes in CAIPS or GCMS, transfer the electronic file to the visa office and notify them by email. The CIO will also:

- notify the applicant that their application is being referred to a visa office for a final determination of eligibility for processing;
- require the applicant to submit a copy of their complete application and other forms, together with all supporting documents to the visa office within 120 days;
- inform the applicant on how to contact the visa office.

9. Visa office procedures - Federal Skilled Worker applications made on or after February 27, 2008, and before June 26, 2010

FSW applications made on or after February 27, 2008 and before June 26, 2010, are referred from the CIO to the visa office for a final determination of eligibility for processing. After a positive final determination at a visa office of eligibility for processing, applications are processed according to the instructions in sections 11 to 15.

9.1. R10, R11 and R12

To comply with subsection R11(1), FSW applicants must submit their applications to the CIO. If they are subsequently instructed to submit a complete application and supporting documents to a visa office, they must also comply with subsection R11(1) in respect of the visa office.

As stated in section 7.1 above, pursuant to paragraph R10(1)(c), applicants are required to, among other things, request on their IMM 0008 (10-2008) that a specific visa office process their application. Applicants who do not complete this part of the IMM 0008 correctly, e.g. leave it blank or specify any office that is not a visa office, have not complied with paragraph R10(1)(c). In this case, section R12 obliges the CIO to return the application to the applicant.

If an applicant complies with R10, the visa office requested must be one that will be able to process the application in compliance with subsection R11(1). The CIO is not responsible for assessing whether applicants are subsection R11(1) compliant at the visa office specified on their IMM 0008. The onus is on the applicant to correctly identify the visa office for processing.

If, when a complete application is received at the visa office, there is insufficient evidence that the applicant is subsection R11(1) compliant as of the date the application was received at the CIO, the visa office will return the application and all documents submitted to the applicant pursuant to section R12. The visa office will not return the application to the CIO.

The visa office will close the file, code as PSDEC2, enter CAIPS notes detailing the reasons for closing the file (i.e. insufficient evidence that the applicant is subsection R11(1) compliant) and initiate a refund request through the CIO. The visa office will not change the file number assigned by the CIO.

The visa office will inform the applicant why the application is being returned and that they may submit a new application to the CIO, which must specify a visa office for which the applicant will be subsection R11(1) compliant.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

9.2. Procedures

Applicants are required to submit their complete application and other forms, together with all supporting documents to a visa office within a deadline set out in the notification they receive from the CIO. This notification specifies that applicants must submit everything in a single package. It also informs the applicant that the visa office will complete the final determination of eligibility on the basis of the information on file once the deadline has elapsed. Visa offices are not required to remind applicants of this deadline.

The CIO enters A87 in the BFTO field and a BFDATE of T+120 days when it transfers a file to a visa office. This date should not be altered at visa offices.

Visa offices must produce BF reports based on the A87 BFTO code, at regular intervals. To establish the appropriate interval, visa offices must determine how many files have been transferred from the CIO. The visa office must also determine the range of BF dates. Based on this information the BF report must be produced as frequently as necessary to ensure that the final determination of eligibility can be completed within 2 weeks of the BF date, if the applicant has not submitted anything prior to the CIO entered BF date.

The FSW application kit [IMM EG7000] informs applicants that “visa offices are strictly enforcing the 120-day rule and will not provide extensions.” In addition, applicants are informed clearly and unambiguously of the documentary requirements and the timeframes for submissions to the visa office. The FSW kit states “*Consult the Visa Office specific requirements now to determine what documents you will need to provide. If you are not prepared to submit full documentation to the Visa Office within 120 days do not apply now. Applicants are given notice from the outset that if they are not prepared, they should not apply. Applicants who heed this notice should be able to meet the deadline.

<http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/information/applications/guides/EG73.asp>

Nevertheless, some applicants will request extensions. All requests must be documented in CAIPS notes and answered. Visa officers must bear in mind the importance of the 120-day deadline in order to manage these cases efficiently and meet the processing time objectives of the Action Plan for Faster Immigration.

9.3. Documenting applicant’s submissions to the visa office

The application received date in CAIPS will remain as entered at the CIO. This date will also serve as the lock-in date.

On receipt of the applicant’s submission to the visa office, visa office staff will:

- date stamp what was submitted and enter this date in CAIPS in the PS READY field;
- review and record in CAIPS notes what was submitted;
- send an acknowledgement of receipt letter with the visa office file number, information on processing times, basic instructions on how to contact the visa office, future steps and information on e-Client Application Status web page in order to follow progress of the file

Note: If an applicant submits some documents and states that outstanding documents required to make a final determination of eligibility will be submitted within whatever remains of the deadline set by the CIO, date stamp and attach the documents to the file. If no additional documents are received in the interim, review the file on the BRING FORWARD (BF) date set by the CIO and follow the remaining steps indicated above.

9.4. Applicant does not submit anything within the 120-day deadline

Once the deadline elapses, visa officers will make a final determination of eligibility for processing on the basis of the information on file. This may or may not include a submission from the applicant.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

In the absence of any supporting documents, a visa officer cannot rely only on the CAIPS notes entered by the CIO in order to make a positive final determination of eligibility for processing. The onus is on the applicant to produce supporting documents to the visa office to substantiate the declarations made on the application submitted to the CIO. A positive determination of eligibility for processing must be based on the visa officer's review of a complete application and supporting documents.

With very few exceptions (possibly some SW3 applicants), in the absence of a submission from an applicant, there will be insufficient evidence to satisfy the visa officer that the applicant meets the requirements of the MI. Visa officers should be able to make final determinations quickly in the absence of any submission.

If the applicant does not submit anything, do not replace the CIO file number with a visa office file number. Re-open the CAIPS file to record the final determination according to the instructions in "Information about CAIPS release 40.2" Appendix B of OB 120.

It is essential to follow the instructions above in order to identify cases in which complete applications and supporting documents are not received. It is necessary to identify these cases for reporting and evaluation purposes.

Enter CAIPS notes: The notes should clearly state the final determination of eligibility was made based on the information available. Visa officers must enter notes to this effect (see suggested wording below):

The CIO informed the applicant he/she had 120 days to submit a complete application with supporting documents to this office. The CIO also informed the applicant a final determination of whether the application can be placed into processing according to the Ministerial Instructions of November 28, 2008, would be made at this office based on the available information as of the 120-day deadline. The applicant has not submitted a complete application and supporting documents to substantiate the declarations made on the application submitted to the CIO. I have reviewed the available information and am not satisfied there is sufficient evidence this application may be placed into processing.

The letter in Appendix E should be sent to applicants who do not submit a complete application and supporting documents, and who receive a negative final determination. As no paper file exists, please copy and paste the letter into CAIPS notes.

9.5. Procedure - Final determination of eligibility for processing

If the applicant submits a complete application and supporting documents, replace the CIO file number with a visa office file number. Please refer to "Information about CAIPS release 40.2" Appendix B of OB 120.

It is essential to follow the instructions above in order to identify cases in which complete applications and supporting documents are received. It is necessary to identify these cases for reporting and evaluation purposes.

Before placing the application into processing, review the information on the file and determine whether it meets the criteria in the Ministerial Instructions. To be eligible for processing under these Instructions, the applicant must qualify under one of the three categories described in the Ministerial Instructions (see section 8.3 for further details).

The visa office assesses the applicant's submission as is. Visa officers should proceed directly to a final determination against the MI. If the application is determined to be eligible for processing, the case should proceed directly to selection decision based on the information on file. No follow-up request for missing documents related to selection is required (please see section 11.10 for information about the one exception to this instruction).

Any documents or information required to complete the admissibility review should be requested once SELDEC is passed. Missing admissibility documents should not hold up the final determination of eligibility or selection review.

If the applicant's submission is insufficient to determine that the application is eligible for processing, a negative determination of eligibility should be rendered. The sample letter in

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Appendix D should be sent to applicants who receive a negative final determination of eligibility for processing based on what they submitted within the 120-day deadline.

After a negative final determination of eligibility, the file is closed. A negative determination is final as of the date of the letter informing the applicant of the negative final determination. Applicants who submit anything after such a letter has been sent should be informed that they may submit a new application to the CIO.

Note: Any documents received and added to the file prior to the date of the letter, regardless of whether or not the 120 days have elapsed, must be considered. Visa offices cannot refuse to consider submissions made after 120 days, if the letters in either Appendix D or E have not been sent. It is therefore important to produce the BF reports, make the final determination of eligibility and send the letters promptly.

9.6. Distinction between final determination of eligibility for processing and processing

Final determination of eligibility for processing

All visa offices should use the same approach when making a final determination of eligibility.

Where documents are reliable and information is clear, consistent and well-supported the final determination of eligibility can be made quickly. Where this is not the case, the final determination of eligibility will be more involved.

While visa officers must exercise diligence at the final determination stage, they should also complete this stage quickly, i.e. ideally less than two weeks after the deadline set by the CIO.

Exercising diligence while making a final determination within the ideal timeframe means the determination will be a paper review of the application and supporting documents. Visa officers must apply their local knowledge to the application and documents to determine eligibility.

The paper review is not just a confirmation of the preliminary determination made at the CIO. The CIO makes preliminary determinations without the benefit of supporting documents to substantiate an applicant's self-assessment of eligibility. The availability of documents permits a more robust assessment at the visa office.

For SW1 (one or more of the 38 occupations listed in the MI), review the documents related to work experience. These documents should include those listed in the Appendix A document checklist of the visa office specific forms. They should include sufficient detail to support the claim of at least one year of continuous work experience or equivalent paid work experience in one or more of the occupations in the last 10 years. Documents lacking sufficient information about the employer, or containing only vague descriptions of duties and periods of employment, should be given less weight. Descriptions of duties taken verbatim from the NOC should be regarded as self-serving. Presented with such documents, visa officers may question whether they accurately describe an applicant's experience. A document that lacks sufficient detail to permit eventual verification and a credible description of the applicant's experience is unlikely to satisfy an officer of an applicant's eligibility.

For SW2 (arranged employment offer) proof of the arranged employment offer (AEO) must be included in the application. The AEO must still be valid at the time of final determination of eligibility and should be sufficiently detailed to support the claim that an offer of employment has been made to the applicant on an indeterminate basis. The AEO should include the employer's name, address, phone number and any other contact information. If the applicant has a permanent job offer confirmed by Human Resources and Skills Development Canada (HRSDC)/Service Canada, a photocopy of the confirmation which was sent to the employer should also be included. Visa officers should be able to use tools such as on-line directories or open source materials to confirm the existence of the employer. The visa officer should corroborate the information about the employer with any NESS employment validations that might exist in CAIPS.

Note: Not all AEOs will have corresponding NESS employment validations.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

For SW3 (temporary foreign workers and international students legally in Canada for at least one year): supporting documents should be sufficiently detailed to establish that applicants have been working or studying for the required period with legal status. Documents may include work or study permits (neither are mandatory), a letter of employment or proof of enrolment at an educational institution. Letters from employers or schools should include the name of the employer or school, address and phone number. Visa officers should be able to use tools such as on-line directories or open source materials to confirm the existence of the employer or school. FOSS can also be checked to corroborate statements about legal residence in Canada.

Note: It may not be possible to verify all temporary foreign workers and international students in FOSS.

Visa officers may also check previous applications to corroborate any information provided in the FSW application. Applications more than 12 months old, however, will not include the most recent information about work experience.

After a positive final determination of eligibility at the visa office processing begins and the applicant is no longer eligible for a refund.

Processing

Once processing begins, officers will review the application against the minimal requirements and the selection criteria for FSW. Visa officers are also required to approve or refuse FSW applications according to the requirements of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (IRPA) and the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations (IRPR).

In cases of refusals, this means an applicant fails to meet the minimal requirements, is not awarded sufficient points or is found to be inadmissible. As applicants may specify more than one NOC code in their application, failure to meet the minimal requirements for an occupation on the MI list will not necessarily result in refusal.

Interviews, verifications of the authenticity of documents, site visits, investigations or seeking clarification from applicants constitute processing. These activities may be undertaken to determine if applicants meet the minimal requirements, can be awarded points for the selection criteria or are inadmissible.

Finding inadmissibility for misrepresentation involves a relatively high standard of procedural fairness. In addition, only an operations manager, deputy program manager or immigration program manager may refuse for misrepresentation.

9.7. File Transfers

There is an existing file transfer policy. Please review OP 1 sections 5.19 and 5.20.

Visa offices may transfer files at any stage for reasons of program integrity.

Program integrity includes issues such as ability to effectively evaluate documents: knowledge of local security and criminality environments; or familiarity with business practices and procedures. Other factors may be taken into account when evaluating the impact of a file transfer on program integrity.

The issues and factors connected with program integrity are not necessarily the same at all stages of application handling. At the final determination of eligibility stage, visa officers may be more inclined to make a negative determination of eligibility in the absence of sufficient evidence of eligibility. Transferring a file to another visa office for a final determination should be the exception rather than the rule.

After a positive final determination of eligibility, more is at stake for both the applicant and program integrity. The applicant is no longer eligible for a fee refund. If program integrity is compromised, a visa might be issued or refused contrary to program requirements. Consequently, greater latitude to transfer files for reasons of program integrity is desirable once an application is in process.

Visa offices are not required to transfer files for any other reasons. Such reasons include cases of applicants who comply with subsection R11(1) for the specified visa office, at the time the application is received at the CIO, but subsequently leave the territory of the specified visa office. In these cases, the original visa office should proceed with a final determination of eligibility and process the application if eligible. The visa office should not transfer the file to another visa office unless the transfer is warranted for program integrity reasons. Leaving a visa office's territory alone, does not warrant a file transfer. In this case, if an applicant requests a file transfer, the visa office should inform them that the application will not be transferred and that they are required to submit a complete application to the visa office originally specified within the 120-day deadline allotted by the CIO.

File transfers following an administrative error

In rare cases the CIO may electronically transfer the file to the wrong visa office. This error may come to light when:

- the applicant notifies either the visa office or the CIO; or
- the visa office (specified by the PA) receives a complete application but has not also received a file transfer from the CIO.

In these cases either the visa office or the CIO (the first to become aware of the error) should notify the other of the error. The CIO will coordinate a request to the IT International Helpdesk to apply the reverse transfer utility. In addition, the CIO will inform the applicant by email that an administrative error has occurred and that it is in the process of being corrected.

If a paper file exists, the visa office will send it to the new visa office and notify both the new visa office and the CIO by email that the file is being transferred and why.

A paper file is a complete application that has been received at a visa office within the 120-day deadline. The date the file was sent to the new visa office must be recorded in the CAIPS notes, before the file is electronically transferred back to the CIO (please see more detailed instructions below). It is not necessary for the CIO to reset the 120-day deadline.

In all cases after the transfer back to the CIO, the CIO should inform the applicant that the file is being re-transferred to the correct visa office. If there is no paper file, the CIO will also BF the file for 120 days and inform applicants of the new deadline for submitting the complete application to the new visa office.

Note: The CIO and visa offices do not bear any responsibility for errors caused by the applicant or their authorized representatives (e.g. the authorized representative specifies an incorrect visa office for processing; the applicant sends complete application to an incorrect visa office etc.). In cases of client or representative errors the visa office will follow the procedures outlined above or, if the applicant does not submit a complete application and supporting documents within the 120-day deadline, the existing instructions for final determinations of eligibility based on the evidence on the file (please see OB 120).

CAIPS instructions

Please refer to the following link for existing CAIPS instructions on file transfers:

http://cicintranet.ci.gc.ca/cicexplore/english/systmguides/caips_stidi/fileman_gestiondoss/index-eng.aspx#ElectronicFileTransfer

With the exception of regional processing centres and satellites, visa offices may not electronically transfer files to another visa office.

There are two different sets of instructions that govern file transfers.

Files transferred from the CIO that have not been re-numbered by the visa office

In these cases, visa offices should contact the CIO (CPC-Sydney-FSW@cic.gc.ca). The CIO will ask the IT International Helpdesk to use the CAIPS reverse transfer utility (see below). After the IT International Helpdesk approves the use of the reverse transfer utility and the visa office electronically transfers the file back to the CIO, the visa office must notify the CIO that the transfer has taken place. The CIO will then in turn, transfer the electronic file to the new visa office.

Note: In these cases where a file has not been re-numbered (whether or not a paper file exists) by the visa office, the PSDEC will remain at PSDEC4. If there is a paper file, the visa office will send it to the new visa office and notify them by email to this effect.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Files transferred from the CIO that have been re-numbered by the visa office

When a file has been renumbered by a visa office, it cannot be transferred back to the CIO and re-transferred electronically by the CIO to another visa office. As a result, renumbered files should simply be closed at the originating visa office. The CIO does not need to be contacted. In most renumbered cases the CAIPS file will already have passed paper screening (PSDEC1). After entering an explanation for the transfer and as many details as possible about the dispatch of the paper file to the other visa office in the CAIPS notes, the CAIPS file should be closed by SELDEC 7 – withdrawn or, if the transfer takes place post-selection, by FINDEC 5 - withdrawn. The paper file should be sent to the new visa office in accordance with the transmittal standards that apply to the contents of the file (at least Protected B).

Note: In these cases where a file has been renumbered and if the PSDEC was reset to PSDEC0 from PSDEC4, code as PSDEC3 before transferring the file.

Upon receipt of the paper file at the new visa office, a new CAIPS file will be created with a new B-file number. It is imperative that the new visa office enter in the following fields:

- XREF = original CIO file number
- Pilot code = M01

In addition, the receiving visa office should send an email message to NHQ-OMC-Stats@cic.gc.ca, identifying the file that has been transferred. This serves to validate the data, and gives CIC the ability to associate 2 separate B-file numbers to the transferred case.

Reverse transfer utility

The reverse transfer utility involves electronically transferring the CAIPS file from the visa office back to the CIO who in turn, will transfer it electronically to the new visa office. The utility allows the CIO to receive the electronic file back without it being rejected because a record with the same file number already exists in its database.

In all cases, the IT International Helpdesk must approve the use of the reverse transfer utility. The CIO will coordinate the request to the IT International Helpdesk to apply the reverse transfer utility. After receiving approval from the IT International Helpdesk to transfer the file, the visa office must notify the CIO that the transfer has taken place. Once the CIO receives the notification from the visa office, it may transfer the file to the new visa office.

Note: It may take a few weeks for the IT International Helpdesk to complete the request. Files transferred in error and awaiting a reverse transfer to the CIO should not be rejected/closed once the 120 days have passed.

10. Visa office procedures - Applications made before February 27, 2008

FSW applications submitted before February 27, 2008, are to be processed according to the legislation in effect at the time of application. Please refer to the remainder of this section, as well as sections 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15

10.1. Receiving the application at the visa office

On September 1, 2006, a "Simplified Application Process" for FSWs was introduced. As of this date, with the exception of applications submitted to the visa office in Buffalo, applicants submitted only a modified IMM 0008 as well as the fee payment at time of initial application. As these applications are brought forward for processing, applicants are asked to provide supporting documents. Although the application should already have been reviewed for the purposes of R10 on initial receipt, it should be reviewed again on receipt of the supporting documents particularly for the purpose of paragraph R10(1)(c).

Applicants must complete and sign the IMM 0008, application for permanent residence in Canada, as well as Schedules 1 and 3 of this form and then submit the applicable fees in Canadian funds to the visa office.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Applications received at the visa office will first be reviewed for completeness, including:

- required forms;
- evidence of payment of the applicable fees (see Section 5.2 for more information on fees).
- the Use of a Representative form, if appropriate.

The visa office will perform an R10 completeness check of the application. R10 prescribes what constitutes “an application” under the Regulations. An application includes, among other things, the following documents, information or declarations:

1. a signed and completed IMM 0008EGEN containing the name, birth date, nationality, marital status and current immigration status of the applicant and all family members (whether accompanying or not), and identifying the principal applicant;
2. the visa, permit or authorization being applied for;
3. the class in which the application is made;
4. a signed statement to the effect that the information provided is complete and accurate;
5. evidence of payment of the applicable fees;
6. any information and documents required by the Regulations.

If it is determined that ...	Then the officer will ...
the application meets the requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• open a file for the application;• acknowledge receipt (see Section 10.2 below);
the application does not meet the requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• send the applicant a letter outlining what documentation is required;• inform them that if they do not produce the required documents by a specific date their applications will be assessed as submitted;• create a file, but do not begin processing until all supporting documents, as defined above, have been submitted or the deadline has passed.

10.2. Acknowledgment of receipt

Once there is a positive completeness check, the officer will send the applicant a letter to:

- notify them of this fact and provide them with their visa office file number;
- set out basic instructions for contact with the visa office;
- give them a brief outline as to future steps; and
- inform them that they can follow the progress of their file via CIC’s e-Client Application Status Web page.

11. Procedure: Minimal requirements of an FSW

Officers will review the application in detail, considering all the information and documentation provided, and assess it against the following minimal requirements and selection criteria for FSWs.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

11.1. Minimal requirements

The officer reviews the applicant's work experience to determine if the applicant meets the minimal requirements to apply as a skilled worker, as stipulated in R75.

The applicant must have at least one year of continuous full-time paid work experience, or the continuous part-time equivalent, in the category of Skill Type 0, or Skill Level A or B, according to the Canadian National Occupational Classification (NOC).

The work experience which will be assessed for all skilled worker applicants must:

- have occurred within the 10 years preceding the date of application;
- not be in an occupation that is considered a restricted occupation. At the time of printing, there were no occupations designated as restricted. However, for the most up-to-date listing, refer to the Skilled Workers and Professionals Web page at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/index.asp>.

The applicant must have:

- performed the actions described in the lead statement for the occupation (or occupations) as set out in the occupational description of the NOC (R75(2)(b));
- performed a substantial number of the main duties, including all of the essential duties, of the occupation as set out in the occupational description of the NOC (R75(2)(c)).

If ...	Then the officer will ...
the applicant meets the minimal requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • proceed to Section 12
the applicant does not meet the minimal requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • not assess the application against the selection criteria; • refuse the application (R75(3)) and proceed to Section 15 Note: Substituted evaluation (Section 13.3), cannot be used to overcome a failure to meet the minimal requirements.

12. Procedure – Assessing the application against FSW selection criteria

12.1. Selection criteria – selection factors and settlement funds

Six selection factors are set forth in R76(1)(a). Officers will assess the applicant's points in each of the following areas, based on the information and documents provided in the application:

- education (Section 12.2);
- language proficiency (knowledge of official languages) (Section 12.3);
- experience (Section 12.13);
- age (Section 12.14);
- arranged employment (Section 12.15);
- adaptability (Section 12.16)

Selection criteria - Settlement funds

In addition to the selection factors stated in R76(1)(a), the applicant must also have sufficient funds available for settlement in Canada pursuant to R76(1)(b)(i).

Conformity

Pursuant to R77, the requirements and criteria set out in R75 and R76 must be met at the time the application is made, as well as at the time the visa is issued.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Settlement funds

The applicant must clearly demonstrate that they have sufficient and available funds to meet the requirements or that they have arranged employment as defined in R82.

The funds must be:

- available and transferable;
- unencumbered by debts or other obligations.

The amount of funds are assessed according to the applicant's family size using 50% of Statistics Canada's most current Low Income Cut-off (LICO) for urban areas with populations of 500,000 or more.

Note: In terms of funds required, the number of the applicant's family members includes both accompanying and non-accompanying dependants.

Although the amount may change yearly, at time of publication the required funds are equal to or greater than the amount listed below for each family size:

Number of family members	Funds required
1	$11,086
2	$13,801
3	$16,967
4	$20,599
5	$ 23,364
6	$ 26,350
7 or more	$ 29,337

Exception: If the applicant has arranged employment as defined in R82, they do not have to meet these financial requirements (R76(b)(ii)).

If ...	Then the officer will ...
the applicant does not initially demonstrate that they have sufficient available funds to meet the requirements at time of application	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • inform the applicant of the officer's specific settlement funds concerns and give the applicant the opportunity to address this problem. • This instruction applies only to applications received before February 27, 2008.
the applicant is unable to demonstrate that they have sufficient available funds to meet the requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • refuse the application and proceed to Section 15. Note: Pursuant to R76(3), substituted evaluation (Section 13.3) cannot be used to override a refusal due to insufficient funds.

For definition of terms, see Section 6.3.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Officers should assess programs of study and award points based on the standards that exist in the country of study. The Regulations do not provide for comparisons to Canadian educational standards.

If the applicant has an educational credential referred to in a particular paragraph in R78(2) but not the total number of years of study required by that paragraph, officers should award the number of points set out in the paragraph that refers to the number of years of study completed by the applicant [R78(4)].

Example: 1. If an applicant has a master's degree, but only 16 years of education, the officer would compare the credential and years of study to the education points chart below and, in this case, award 22 points;

Example: 2. If an applicant has a four-year bachelor's degree and 16 years of education, an officer would award 20 points, as a single two, three, or four-year university credential at the bachelor's level, combined with at least 14 years of full-time study, is worth 20 points.

Note: Medical doctor degrees are generally first-level university credentials, in the same way that a Bachelor of Law or a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacology is a first level, albeit "professional" degree and should be awarded 20 points. If it is a second-level degree and if, for example, it belongs to a Faculty of Graduate Studies, 25 points may be awarded. If a bachelor's credential is a prerequisite to the credential, but the credential itself is still considered a first-level degree, then 22 points would be appropriate. It is important to refer to how the local authority responsible for educational institutions recognizes the credential: i.e., as a first-level or second-level or higher university credential.

Note: R 78(1) defines "full-time equivalent" in respect of part-time or accelerated studies, the period that would have been required to complete those studies on a full-time basis. In these cases, officers should award points for the credential and years of study that would have been required to complete the studies at the time the application is made.

Pursuant to R77, officers should award points for the credential and years of study that the applicant has completed at the time the application is made. If further study is completed and documentation submitted between application and assessment, officers must award the points for the highest educational credential obtained at the time of assessment.

A distance learning credential is eligible for points as long as it meets the definition of a credential as outlined in R73. If the credential is not described in terms of number of years duration (i.e., three-year bachelor's degree), officers should apply the definition of full-time equivalent study and knowledge that the visa office has acquired on local education institutions and credentials.

There is a high incidence of fraud in this area. Verification checks should be conducted with issuing institutions to ensure that program integrity standards are respected.

Pursuant to R78, officers should assess the application and award the applicant up to a maximum of 25 points for education as follows:

Credential and number of years of education	Points
Secondary school has not been completed (i.e., no diploma obtained) and the applicant has no trade or apprenticeship educational credentials	0
Secondary school educational credential	5
One year post-secondary educational credential, other than a university credential, and at least 12 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	12
One year post-secondary educational credential, other than a university educational credential, and at least 13 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	15
One year university educational credential at the bachelor's level, and at least 13 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	15
Two year post-secondary educational credential, other than a university	20

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

educational credential, and at least 14 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies
A university educational credential of two years or more at the bachelor's level, and at least 14 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	20
Three year post-secondary educational credential, other than a university educational credential, and at least 15 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	22
Two or more university educational credentials at the bachelor's level and at least 15 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	22
University educational credential at the master's or doctoral level and at least 17 years of completed full-time or full-time equivalent studies	25

Note: Subsection 78(3) of the IRPR provides that points are to be awarded on the basis of the single educational credential that results in the highest number of points. For example, an applicant with a master's degree that was completed after 16 years of education, and who spends an additional year in school after obtaining it would be awarded 22 points. That the applicant spent an additional year in school does not turn a 16 year master's degree into a 17 year master's degree and would not result in being awarded 25 points.

12.3. Knowledge of official languages

Pursuant to R79, a maximum of 24 points should be awarded for proficiency in English and French as follows:

- a maximum of 16 points for proficiency in the "first" official language (that identified by the principal applicant on the application form);
- a maximum of 8 points for proficiency in the "second" official language.

Calculating language points:

First official language	Reading	Writing	Listening	Speaking
High proficiency	4	4	4	4
Moderate proficiency	2	2	2	2
Basic proficiency *to a maximum of 2 points	1	1	1	1
No proficiency	0	0	0	0
Second official language	Reading	Writing	Listening	Speaking
High proficiency	2	2	2	2
Moderate proficiency	2	2	2	2
No proficiency	0	0	0	0

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

12.4. Evidence of language proficiency

For more information, see:

- Language test results, Section 12.5;
- Designated testing organizations, Section 12.6;
- French language testing organizations, Section 12.7
- Canadian English Language Proficiency Index Program, Section 12.8
- International English Language Testing System, Section 12.9;
- Test d'évaluation de français, Section 12.10;
- Other written evidence, Section 12.11.
- Integrity concerns on language proficiency during an interview, Section 12.12

Pursuant to R79(1), the points indicated above are awarded for proficiency in English and French based on either:

- a) language test results, submitted at time of application from an designated organization or institution;
- b) other evidence in writing, submitted at time of application, of the applicant's proficiency in one or both official languages.

Note: For applications received on or after June 26, 2010, points will be assessed on the basis of official language test results per R79(1)(a). Other written evidence of language proficiency will only be accepted for applications received before June 26, 2010.

Officers may no longer assess language proficiency at interview; rather, they must either:

- a) rely on the results of a test done by an designated testing organization as conclusive evidence of an applicant's level of language proficiency (R79(1)(a)) (refer to Section 12.6); or
- b) evaluate other written evidence of proficiency submitted by the applicant against the Canadian Language Benchmarks 2000 / Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadiens (NCLC) 2006 (R79(1)(b)) (refer to Section 12.11).

For applications received before June 26, 2010, kit and website instructions make it clear that it is the responsibility of the applicant to choose which of these two options to follow, and outline the consequences of this decision. The instructions in the kit:

- strongly advise taking a test from an designated organization if English and/or French is not the applicant's native language;
- strongly advise prospective applicants that, unless they believe they can clearly establish the proficiency levels they claim through the means of a written explanation detailing training in and usage of the language and supported by written proof of education and/or employment using the language, they should undertake an approved test and provide results;
- provide Web site links to the test equivalencies tables, so prospective applicants can determine how many points for language their test scores will earn them;
- provide Web site links to the Canadian Language Benchmarks 2000 / Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadiens 2006 so those applicants providing written submissions will be able to review the standards against which their submissions will be weighed;
- inform applicants that the results of any language tests by non-designated testing organizations will not be considered as evidence of language proficiency.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

Note: Points for the applicant's language proficiency are generally awarded according to evidence provided at the time the application is made. However, if further study, training, or testing is completed and documentation submitted between the time of application and the time of assessment, officers will use the most current results to determine point allocations. In terms of designated language test results, officers will NOT select the highest score for each language ability from a variety of test score submissions. It is always the most recent group of tests that will be considered by officer as it is the most current assessment of the applicant's four language abilities.

12.5. Language test results

Pursuant to R79(3), officers will award points based on the results of a language test from a designated organization. Testing organizations are designated by the Minister's delegate: the Director of Permanent Resident Policy and Programs Development Division (SSE). Testing organizations will only be designated if they meet the following criteria:

- Validity: A test must be appropriate for CIC purposes by evaluating proficiency in the four skill areas (i.e., reading, writing, listening, and speaking) in functional English or French at all levels from basic to high proficiency.
- Reliability: A test must produce consistently similar scores among candidates with similar language proficiency. The different versions of a test must be at the same level of difficulty each time the test is written.
- Integrity/security: A designated testing organization must meet security standards with respect to the logistics of preparing test sites, registering of candidates, test writing, test marking, sending out results, etc. Sufficient anti-fraud mechanisms must be in place for a test to be approved.
- Availability: A designated organization must make tests available to applicants in areas of the world where there is a demand for third-party language testing.

Note: Test results for applicants who are hearing-impaired are treated in the same manner as those of applicants who are not. The points for language are awarded based on the ability to communicate in English or French, and not the means of communication.

Note: Language test results must not be older than one year at the time of application.

12.6. Designated testing organizations

At the time of printing, designated testing organizations included:

English language testing organizations

- Paragon Testing Enterprises Inc., University of British Columbia administers the Canadian English Language Proficiency Index Program (CELPIP)
- The University of Cambridge Local Examination Syndicate, Education Australia, and the British Council administer the International English Language Testing System (IELTS).

Note: IELTS offers 'General Training' and 'Academic' options. Only the 'General Training' tests are accepted for CIC purposes.

12.7. French language testing organizations

The Paris Chamber of Commerce and Industry administers the Test d'Évaluation de Français (TEF).

Note: For CIC purposes, applicants must submit results for the following tests of the TEF modules: compréhension écrite (reading); compréhension orale (listening); expression écrite (writing); expression orale (speaking). The lexique et structure (grammar and structure) test is not required for Canadian immigration purposes. However, test candidates take it as part of the reading and listening module.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

R79(4) establishes these test results as “conclusive evidence” of the applicant’s proficiency in that language. Officers cannot:

- consider any claim made by the applicant that the test results are an inaccurate reflection of their true abilities;
- override the test results and substitute their own evaluation of language abilities;
- award points based on the results of any language test that is not administered by an organization that has been designated by CIC. Non-designated test results may only be considered as one part of an overall written submission and are not “conclusive evidence” of an applicant’s official language proficiency.

Second-language experts established the equivalencies between the four levels of language proficiency indicated in the Regulations, and the results of the language tests listed above. Thus, officers should award points based on the appropriate equivalency chart.

Note: If the officer has reason to suspect the integrity of the designated test results, the visa office is responsible for contacting the local testing centre with their concerns and communicating the same to International Region—Operational Coordination (RIM) and Immigration Branch — Permanent Resident Policy and Programs Development Division (SSE). CIC Headquarters is in regular communication with the designated testing organizations’ head offices and will follow up on concerns that indicate widespread and/or systemic abuse.

12.11. Other written evidence

For applications received at the CIO on or after June 26, 2010, other written evidence of language proficiency will not be accepted. All applications must be accompanied by the results of the principal applicant's English or French language proficiency assessment. Only test results from a third party language testing agency designated by the Minister of Citizenship, Immigration and Multiculturalism will be accepted (see section 12.6).

For applications received before June 26, 2010, if the applicant provides a written explanation and supporting documentation in lieu of test results, officers must assess it against the Canadian Language Benchmarks 2000, and/or the Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadiens 2006 R79(2) establishes the following equivalencies between the four proficiency levels and the Canadian Language Benchmarks:

Proficiency level	Benchmark equivalencies
High	Benchmark 8 or higher
Moderate	Benchmark 6 or 7
Basic	Benchmark 4 or 5
No proficiency	Benchmark 3 or lower

Thus, for purposes of assessment of proficiency levels, it is Benchmarks 4, 6, and 8 that are of key importance, as they are the thresholds of the three levels for which points can be awarded. Refer to the following quick reference chart to access the appropriate Canadian Language Benchmarks:

Proficiency level	Ability
	Speaking	Listening	Reading	Writing
High	Benchmark 8: pages 68-71	Benchmark 8: pages 82-83	Benchmark 8: pages 94-95	Benchmark 8: pages 106-107
Moderate	Benchmark 6: pages 60-63	Benchmark 6: pages 78-79	Benchmark 6: pages 90-91	Benchmark 6: pages 102-103
Basic	Benchmark 4: pages 12-13	Benchmark 4: pages 24-25	Benchmark 4: pages 36-37	Benchmark 4: pages 48-49
No proficiency	Does not meet benchmark 4	Does not meet benchmark 4	Does not meet benchmark 4	Does not meet benchmark 4

Note: See www.language.ca for Canadian Language Benchmarks.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

For each proficiency level in each ability (i.e., speaking, listening, reading, and writing), the Benchmarks set out the following descriptions:

- global performance descriptors;
- performance conditions;
- what the person can do;
- examples of tasks and texts; and
- performance indicators.

With these detailed descriptors, officers will assess whether or not the applicant's evidence in writing satisfies them that they possess their claimed proficiency levels in English and/or French.

If ...	Then the officer will ...
the material submitted satisfies the officer that the applicant has the proficiency levels claimed	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • award language points for the proficiency levels claimed, according to the chart provided in Section 12.3.
the material submitted satisfies the officer that the applicant has demonstrated language proficiency of at least Benchmark level "4" but not the proficiency levels claimed	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • inform the applicant in writing that they have not demonstrated compliance with the Benchmarks at the levels claimed. • offer the applicant the opportunity to undergo and submit the results of a designated language test within a certain time period. • For applications received on or after April 10, 2010, and before June 26, 2010, at the CIO, do not offer the applicant the opportunity to undergo and submit the results of a designated language test If the designated test option is not pursued by the applicant: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • inform the applicant that they have satisfied the officer of some language proficiency but have not demonstrated compliance with the Benchmarks for the levels they have claimed and award the maximum points that are appropriate for the submission.
the evidence provided does not demonstrate a Benchmark level of at least "4"	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • award 0 points.
the applicant does not provide any evidence to satisfy the officer that demonstrates a benchmark level of at least "4"	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • award 0 points.

The onus is on the applicant to satisfy the officer of claimed language proficiency.

Given the detailed nature of the Canadian Language Benchmarks 2000 and the Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadiens 2006 it should be clear that, in most cases where language proficiency is not patently obvious from the applicant's background, self-serving declarations, third-party testimonials and/or other claims not supported by detailed and objective evidence will be of little probative value in establishing high or moderate proficiency.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

12.12. Integrity concerns on language proficiency during an interview

The interview is not intended to be a means of evaluating language proficiency. Officers cannot change language point awards or make new language point assessments themselves based on what they have discovered at interview. However, if an applicant is interviewed for any other reason and significant discrepancies become evident between claimed and actual language proficiency, there may be an integrity issue. The following options are available to officers:

If ...	Then the officer will ...
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • designated results have been submitted • the officer is satisfied that there is no fraud or malfeasance in the testing procedures for the case in question • the officer is not satisfied, but there is insufficient evidence to establish fraud or malfeasance in the testing procedures for the case in question and to substantiate a refusal for misrepresentation • the officer is satisfied that there is sufficient evidence to establish fraud or malfeasance in the testing procedures for the case in question 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the officer will verify test scores and integrity of testing procedures for the case in question with the local testing agency. • accept the test score; • inform the applicant of their concerns and, in coordination with the testing agency, provide an opportunity to take a second test at testing agency's expense and with visa office supervision. • If the applicant refuses the third-party language testing option, then the officer will refuse the application for misrepresentation, given the discrepancy between the test scores and the actual language abilities. • refuse the case for misrepresentation.
a written submission has been provided, the officer will offer the applicant an opportunity to take a designated test; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the applicant takes a designated test • If the applicant does not take a designated test 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • accept test scores submitted; • refuse the application for misrepresentation, given the discrepancy between the documents submitted and the actual language abilities

12.13. Experience

Pursuant to R80, officers will assess and award up to 21 units of assessment for paid work experience, as follows:

Number of years	Less than 1	At least 1	At least 2	At least 3	4 or more
Points	0	15	17	19	21

To be eligible for points, the applicant's work experience must:

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

- have occurred during the 10 years immediately preceding the date of application;
- be in occupations listed in the National Occupational Classification (NOC) under Skill Type 0 or Skill Level A and B;
- not be in an occupation that has been designated by the Minister as a restricted occupation. At the time of printing, there were no occupations designated as restricted. However, for the most up-to-date listing, officers should refer to the Department's website at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/index.asp>;
- be full-time work, which, according to R80(7), is equivalent to at least 37.5 hours of paid work per week. Full-time work experience requirement may be met by the equivalent in part-time paid work experience, e.g. more than one part-time job held simultaneously or one or more part-time jobs held over the equivalent of one year of full-time work. Experience can be calculated by adding up the number of weeks of full-time work, i.e. 37.5 hours per week in one job or a total of at least 37.5 hours per week in more than one job, in one or more of the NOC categories. Periods of work of less than 12 months during the 10 years immediately preceding the date of the application may be added together and divided by 12 to calculate the number of years

Officers must:

- consider only those occupations which the applicant has specified and for which the applicant has provided the four-digit NOC code on their application form (R80(6));

Note: While the Regulations clearly place responsibility on applicants to undertake research of the NOC and provide the NOC coding for the occupations in which they claim qualifying experience, officers are expected to exercise discretion where applicants may have made minor errors or omissions in correlating work experience and NOC coding.

- not take into account whether the applicant meets the "Employment requirements" description set forth in the NOC for the occupation(s) listed (R80(3));
- award points only if the applicant has performed the actions described in the lead statement of the particular NOC description and has performed at least a substantial number of the duties described in the "Main Duties" summary – including all the essential duties (R80(3));

Note: Neither the NOC nor the Regulations distinguish between "essential" and "non-essential" duties or provide guidance as to what constitutes a "substantial number". This is left as a matter for assessment on a case-by-case basis. If officers have concerns about whether or not the applicant has carried out "a substantial number of the main duties...including all of the essential duties," they should give the applicant an opportunity to respond to these concerns.

- take into account any years of experience that occur between application and assessment, and for which the applicant has submitted the necessary documentation (R77).

12.14. Age

Pursuant to R81, up to 10 points are awarded to an applicant who is at least 21 and less than 50 years of age at the time the application is made. Two points are subtracted, to a maximum of 10 points, for each year the applicant is less than 21 or over the age of 49.

Points awarded:

Age	Points
21 to 49 years of age	10
20 or 50 years of age	8
19 or 51 years of age	6
18 or 52 years of age	4

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

17 or 53 years of age	2
Less than 17 or greater than 53 years of age	0

12.15. Arranged employment

Pursuant to R82, 10 points will be awarded if the applicant is in one of the situations described in the following table, and the applicant:

- has submitted the necessary documentation (note that in the third and fourth instances of arranged employment described below, Human Resources and Skills Development Canada—HRSDC will communicate the approved job offer to the visa office electronically);
- is able to perform and is likely to accept and carry out the employment. Officers may take into account the applicant's education and training, background, and prior work experience to determine if the applicant meets this requirement. If they have any concerns about the applicant's ability or likelihood to accept and carry out the employment, they will communicate these to the applicant and provide the opportunity to respond.

Note: Arranged employment points are only awarded for occupations listed in Skill Type 0 or Skill Level A or B of the NOC. If employment is arranged and the required documentation submitted between application and assessment, officers will award the points for arranged employment.

- If significant time has lapsed since the date of application, officers may want to contact the employer to verify that the offer of permanent employment still exists.
- If the case is being convoked for interview, the officer should check CAIPS/FOSS about eight weeks in advance of the interview date to confirm that the AEO has not been withdrawn or cancelled..
- Arranged employment opinion decisions can be cancelled at any time by HRSDC. Before issuing a visa, the officer should confirm in FOSS/CAIPS that the opinion has not been cancelled or withdrawn.

12.16. Adaptability

Pursuant to R83, the officer will assess the application and award a maximum of 10 adaptability points, as follows:

Adaptability criteria	Points
a) Educational credentials of the accompanying spouse or common-law partner: Evaluate credentials as if the spouse or common-law partner were the principal applicant then award points as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Where the award under R78 would be 25 points - five points Where the award under R78 would be 20 or 22 points - four points Where the award under R78 would be 12 or 15 points - three points 	3, 4 or 5

c) Previous work in Canada: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Award five points for a minimum of one year of full-time work in Canada on a valid work permit for an applicant or accompanying spouse or common-law 	5

e) Arranged employment: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Award five points if the applicant has earned points under the Arranged Employment in Canada factor (Factor 5) (R76(1)(a)). 	5

Points for previous study in Canada, previous work in Canada, and relatives in Canada are awarded only once - either to the principal applicant or the spouse or common-law partner, but not to both.

Pursuant to R77, these requirements and criteria must be met at the time the application is made, as well as at the time the visa is issued. Therefore:

- if an applicant's spouse or common-law partner is no longer accompanying them, then any points that they may have received for their adaptability cannot be counted;
- if an applicant adds a spouse or common-law partner to their application between application and assessment, and submits the necessary documentation, points must be counted, if applicable, for that person under the adaptability criteria;
- if the applicant or their spouse or common-law partner completes further study, works in Canada, arranges employment in Canada, or gains relatives in Canada between application and assessment, and submits the necessary documentation, points must be awarded accordingly.

13. Procedure: Selection decision

13.1. The pass mark

R76(2) empowers the Minister to set the "minimum number of points required of a skilled worker" – or, as it is more commonly known, the "pass mark".

The pass mark was last set on September 18, 2003 at 67 points.

To determine the most up-to-date pass mark, consult the Web site at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/skilled/index.asp>.

Total the applicant's points in the six selection factors.

For applications received on or after February 27, 2008, and before June 26, 2010:

If ...	Then the visa officer may ...
The applicant's total score is equal to or greater than the pass mark	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> pass the application
The applicant's total score is less than the pass mark	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> refuse the application

For applications received on or after June 26, 2010:

If ...	Then the CIO officer will ...
The applicant's total score is equal to or greater than the pass mark	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> forward the entire application to the visa office identified by the applicant on the IMM 0008 for a selection decision.
The applicant's total score is less than the pass mark	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> refuse the application (negative selection decision); record outcome and reasons; and send a letter to inform the applicant (see Appendix C for sample letter).

Note: CIO officers will only make negative selection decisions. Applications that meet the pass mark are forwarded to a visa office. The visa officer will review the application and case analysis provided by the CIO and make the selection decision.

13.2. Use of interviews

Selection standards are objective, clearly defined and can be assessed in straightforward cases through the information provided on the application for permanent residence and the accompanying supporting documents.

In most cases, officers should be able to make selection decisions—either to approve or refuse applications—from the documentation provided. However, in some cases, an interview may be necessary.

Any concerns officers have regarding the accuracy or authenticity of information or documentation should be communicated to the applicant, whether these concerns are raised as the result of site visits, telephone checks or other means. Concerns can be communicated to the applicant in writing or at interview.

Officers may conduct interviews with applicants to:

- ensure that information submitted on the application is truthful and complete;
- detect and deter fraudulent information and documents;
- clarify specific information;
- conduct quality assurance.

Officers may not conduct interviews to:

- assess language abilities;
- determine personal suitability (as this factor no longer exists).

Note: Visa offices will be expected to undertake both targeted and random verifications to detect and deter fraud. The number and percentage of cases subjected to verification should be high enough to act as a meaningful disincentive to those who would attempt such practices. A40 makes material misrepresentation a grounds for inadmissibility in its own right and prescribes a two-year ban on those both directly and indirectly involved in such practices.

Interviews, site visits and telephone checks have proven to be the most effective ways to detect and to combat fraud. The information gained at interviews where fraud is detected will help officers to identify current trends and patterns and to refine their profiles for ongoing use.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

13.3. Substituted evaluation

R76(3) makes possible substituted evaluation by an officer. This authority may be used if an officer believes the point total is not a sufficient indicator of whether or not the applicant may become economically established in Canada.

Substituted evaluation is to be considered on a case-by-case basis. The scope of what an officer might consider as relevant cannot be limited by a prescribed list of factors to be used in support of exercising substituted evaluation. There are any number and combination of considerations that an officer might cite as being pertinent to assessing, as per the wording of R76(3): “. . . the likelihood of the ability of the skilled worker to become economically established in Canada. . . .” Frequency of use will vary from visa office to visa office, as some will find in their caseloads more situations of disconnect between the point total and establishment prospects than will others. The fact that the applicant “almost attained” a pass mark is not, in itself, grounds to recommend the use of substituted evaluation. Rather, the officer needs to identify and document the facts demonstrating that the points awarded are not a sufficient indicator of the applicant’s ability to become economically established in Canada.

For legal clarity, officers should employ the terms used in legislation, such as “substituted evaluation” or “ability to become economically established.”

If an officer decides to use substituted evaluation when ...	Then the officer will ...
the applicant did meet the pass mark (i.e., negative substituted evaluation)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• communicate their concerns to the applicant and provide sufficient opportunity to the applicant to respond to these concerns, through correspondence or an interview;• obtain written concurrence from a designated officer.
the applicant did not meet the pass mark (i.e., positive substituted evaluation)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• obtain written concurrence from a designated officer.

Substituted evaluation is not to be confused with humanitarian and compassionate authority, which enables the Minister or his/her delegates to grant permanent residence or an exemption from any applicable criteria or obligation of IRPA in a range of situations involving sufficiently compelling circumstances.

Substituted evaluation cannot be used to override:

- a refusal due to insufficient funds [R76(3)]
- a failure to meet the definition of a skilled worker as outlined in R75. R75(3) clearly states that a failure to meet the requirements of a skilled worker as outlined in R75(2) will result in an application being refused
- a failure to meet the Ministerial Instructions

Federal Court case law indicates that if an applicant or their representative requests orally or in writing that the officer consider exercising these powers in the applicant’s favour, officers must examine the circumstances. There is no requirement that an interview be conducted in all cases when the applicant did not make a compelling case for substituted evaluation. If officers do not consider substituted evaluation appropriate in the circumstances, they should indicate this in file notes and in the refusal letter. Officers do not need the concurrence of the designated officer to deny requests for the use of positive substituted evaluation.

14. Procedure: Approving the application

If officers approve an applicant who is living outside of Canada, they should

- send the permanent resident visa and Confirmation of Permanent Residence to their address; and

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

- direct the applicant to present these to an officer at a Canadian port of entry.

Pursuant to R71.1(2), if officers approve an application from a temporary resident in Canada who is a member of a class referred to in R70(2)(a) or (b), they will:

- send the permanent resident visa and Confirmation of Permanent Residence to their address in Canada; and
- direct the applicant to contact a Call Centre to find the location of the closest CIC, and to make an appointment for them and their family members, if applicable, to be granted Permanent Resident status at that CIC location.

15. Procedure: Refusing the application

All refused skilled worker applicants, including those refused for non-compliance with processing requirements, must be sent or otherwise provided a formal refusal letter. The letter must:

- inform the applicant of the categories or circumstances under which the application was considered;
- provide a listing of the points awarded in respect of each selection factor;
- fully inform the applicant why the application has been refused.

Note: The refusal letter should not indicate that the applicant has been made a member of an inadmissible class as a result of their failure to qualify as a skilled worker.

Refer to sample refusal letters for examples in Appendix A, B, and C

16. Coding Instructions – Computer Assisted Immigration Processing System (CAIPS) for applications received before June 26, 2010

As of April 15, 2009, two additional immigrant categories are used for FSW applicants found eligible for processing. Please make the appropriate selection:

SW1	One year of continuous work experience in a NOC category listed in the Ministerial Instructions
SW2	Arranged employment offer (AEO)
SW3	Temporary foreign worker (TFW) or international student residing in Canada for one year and still in Canada

PSDEC coding

Note: All previous instructions to use PSDEC code 3, if no application is received within 120 days is revoked. Please use PSDEC code 2 for all negative eligibility determinations, i.e. for applicants who receive either the letter in Appendix D or E.

PSDEC 1	Eligible
PSDEC 2	Ineligible (negative final determination)
PSDEC 3	Withdrawn (applicant withdraws)
PSDEC 4	Administrative Withdrawal (recommended for further assessment at visa office, for the exclusive use of the CIO)

INSERT ADDRESS

INSERT DATE

Dear :

I have now completed the assessment of your application for a permanent resident visa as a skilled worker. I have determined that you do not meet the requirements for immigration to Canada.

Subsection 75(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations states that a foreign national is a skilled worker if:

- (a) within the 10 years preceding the date of their application for a permanent resident visa, they have at least one year of continuous full-time (37.5 hours/week) employment experience, as described in subsection 80(7), or the equivalent in continuous part-time employment in one or more occupations, other than a restricted occupation, that are listed in Skill Type 0 Management Occupations or Skill Level A or B of the National Occupational Classification matrix;
- (b) during that period of employment they performed the actions described in the lead statement for the occupation as set out in the occupational descriptions of the National Occupational Classification; and
- (c) (c) during that period of employment they performed a substantial number of the main duties of the occupation as set out in the occupational descriptions of the National Occupational Classification, including all of the essential duties.

I am not satisfied that you meet the (choose one or more: first, second, third) part of these requirements because (provide reasons.)

Subsection 75(3) states that if a foreign national fails to meet these requirements, the application shall be refused and no further assessment is required. I am not satisfied that you meet these requirements.

For all cases, add:

Subsection 11(1) of the Act states that a foreign national must, before entering Canada, apply to an officer for a visa or for any other document required by the regulations. The visa or document may be issued if, following an examination, the officer is satisfied that the foreign national is not inadmissible and meets the requirements of this Act. Subsection 2(2) specifies that unless otherwise indicated, references in the Act to “this Act” included regulations made under it.

Following an examination of your application, I am not satisfied that you meet the requirements of the Act and the regulations for the reasons explained above. I am therefore refusing your application.

If the applicant has paid the RPRF at mission, add:

The Right of Permanent Residence Fee that you have paid is refundable. (Add as appropriate) You will receive a cheque from the (choose as appropriate) Embassy/High Commission/Consulate within a few weeks. (or) Please contact the Canadian (choose as appropriate) Embassy/High Commission/ Consulate in for information concerning the method of reimbursement and the date at which you can obtain the refund.

If the applicant paid RPRF to the CIO, add:

The Right of Permanent Residence Fee that you have paid at the Centralized Intake Office (CIO) in Sydney, Nova Scotia, is refundable. You will receive a cheque from the CIO within 8-12 weeks.

Thank you for the interest you have shown in Canada.

Yours sincerely,

INSERT ADDRESS

Dear :

I have now completed the assessment of your application for a permanent resident visa as a skilled worker and have determined that you do not meet the requirements for immigration to Canada.

Subsection 12(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act states that a foreign national may be selected as a member of the economic class on the basis of their ability to become economically established in Canada. Subsection 75(1) of the Regulations prescribes the Federal Skilled Worker class as a class of persons who are skilled workers and who may become permanent residents on the basis of their ability to become economically established in Canada.

Pursuant to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations, 2002, skilled worker applicants are assessed on the basis of the definition set out in subsection 75(2) and the criteria set out in subsection 76(1). The assessment of these criteria determines whether a skilled worker will be able to become economically established in Canada. The criteria are age, education, knowledge of Canada's official languages, experience, arranged employment and adaptability.

Your application was assessed based on the occupation(s) in which you requested assessment (add title of the occupation and NOC code for each occupation in NOC skill type 0 or skill level A or B which the applicant has claimed experience). The table below sets out the points assessed for each of the selection criteria:

	Points assessed	Maximum possible
Age		10
Education		25
Official language proficiency		24
Experience		21
Arranged employment		10
Adaptability		10
Total		100

Subsection 76(3) of the Regulations permit an officer to substitute their evaluation of the likelihood to become economically established in Canada if the number of points awarded are not a sufficient indicator of whether the skilled worker may become economically established in Canada.

As discussed with you at your interview, I am not satisfied that the points that you have been awarded are an accurate reflection of the likelihood of your ability to become economically established in Canada. I have made this evaluation because (provide reasons.) You were given an opportunity to address these concerns at your interview. The information you have given me and your explanations have not satisfied me that you will be able to become economically established in Canada. A senior officer concurred in this evaluation.

Subsection 11(1) of the Act states that a foreign national must, before entering Canada, apply to an officer for a visa or for any other document required by the Regulations. The visa or document may be issued if, following an examination, the officer is satisfied that the foreign national is not inadmissible and meets the requirements of this Act. Subsection 2(2) specifies that unless otherwise indicated, references in the Act to "this Act" include regulations made under it.

Following an examination of your application, I am not satisfied that you meet the requirements of the Act and the Regulations for the reasons explained above. I am therefore refusing your application.

Dear :

I have now completed the assessment of your application for a permanent resident visa as a skilled worker and have determined that you do not meet the requirements for immigration to Canada.

Subsection 12(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act states that a foreign national may be selected as a member of the economic class on the basis of their ability to become economically established in Canada. Subsection 75(1) of the Regulations prescribes the Federal Skilled Worker class as a class of persons who are skilled workers and who may become permanent residents on the basis of their ability to become economically established in Canada.

Pursuant to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations, 2002, skilled worker applicants are assessed on the basis of the requirements set out in subsection 75(2) and the criteria set out in subsection 76(1). The assessment of these requirements determines whether a skilled worker will be able to become economically established in Canada. The criteria are age, education, knowledge of Canada's official languages, experience, arranged employment and adaptability.

Your application was assessed based on the occupation(s) in which you requested assessment (add title of the occupation and NOC code for each occupation in NOC skill type 0 or skill level A or B which the applicant has claimed experience). The table below sets out the points assessed for each of the selection criteria:

	Points assessed	Maximum possible
Age		10
Education		25
Official language proficiency		24
Experience		21
Arranged employment		10
Adaptability		10
Total		100

You have obtained insufficient points to qualify for immigration to Canada, the minimum requirement being 67 points. Add reasons why applicant was unable to obtain sufficient points. You have not obtained sufficient points to satisfy me that you will be able to become economically established in Canada.

Subsection 11(1) of the Act states that a foreign national must, before entering Canada, apply to an officer for a visa or for any other document required by the regulations. The visa or document may be issued if, following an examination, the officer is satisfied that the foreign national is not inadmissible and meets the requirements of this Act. Subsection 2(2) specifies that unless otherwise indicated, references in the Act to "this Act" include regulations made under it.

Following an examination of your application, I am not satisfied that you meet the requirements of the Act and the Regulations for the reasons explained above. I am therefore refusing your application.

If the applicant has paid the RPRF, add:

Appendix D – Negative final determination of eligibility for processing - Ministerial Instructions – sample letter

INSERT LETTERHEAD

INSERT ADDRESS

Dear :

This refers to your application for permanent residence in Canada as a Federal Skilled Worker. I have now completed the assessment of your application and have determined that you are not eligible for processing in this category for the following reason(s).

The Minister of Citizenship and Immigration issued instructions which were published in the Canada Gazette on [insert applicable date here – i.e. November 28, 2008, or June 26, 2010]. Only applicants who meet the criteria specified in these Ministerial Instructions are eligible to be processed in the Federal Skilled Worker class.

IF GLOBAL CAP OR NOC SUB-CAP IS REACHED:

A maximum of 20,000 complete Federal Skilled Worker (FSW) applications, without an offer of arranged employment, or a maximum of 1,000 complete FSW applications per National Occupation Classification (NOC) code will be considered for processing each year. Your application was received after this cap was reached.

IF APPLYING UNDER AEO:

Although you have indicated that you have an Arranged Employment Offer, CHOOSE you have not provided proof of your Arranged Employment Offer OR your Arranged Employment Offer is not valid OR OTHER REASONS.

IF APPLYING AS STUDENT OR TFW IN CANADA (BEFORE JUNE 26, 2010):

Although you have indicated that you are a student OR temporary foreign worker, CHOOSE you have not provided proof of your legal status in Canada OR you have not been legally residing in Canada at least one year OR you are no longer residing in Canada OR OTHER REASONS.

IF APPLYING UNDER OCCUPATION LIST:

We have assessed your declared occupations against the list of occupations identified by the Minister of Citizenship and Immigration and published in the Canada Gazette on [insert applicable date here – i.e. November 28, 2008, or June 26, 2010]. Your occupation(s) do(es) not correspond to any of the eligible occupations.

OR

You have indicated that you have work experience in (an) occupation(s) with the following NOC (National Occupational Classification) code(s): LIST NOC CODES AND OCCUPATION TITLES. Although the NOC code(s) correspond(s) to the occupations specified in the Instructions, you have not provided sufficient evidence that you performed the actions described in the lead statement for the occupation, as set out in the occupational descriptions of the NOC OR that you performed all of the essential duties and a substantial number of the main duties, as set out in the occupational descriptions of the NOC. As such, I am not satisfied that you are a OCCUPATION TITLE and NOC CODE.

OR

You have indicated that you have work experience in (an) occupation(s) with the following NOC code(s): LIST NOC CODES AND OCCUPATION TITLES. Although the NOC code(s) correspond(s) to the occupations specified in the Instructions, you do not have a minimum of one year of continuous full-time, or equivalent part-time, paid work experience in the occupation(s) in the last ten years.

OP 6 Federal Skilled Workers

FOR ALL:

Since you did not provide evidence that you CHOOSE APPROPRIATE have an Arranged Employment Offer AND/OR are a Temporary Foreign Worker or an International Student AND/OR have work experience in the listed occupations, you do not meet the requirements of the Ministerial Instructions and your application is not eligible for processing.

Subsections 87.3(2)-(3) are the pertinent sections of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act:

The processing of applications and requests is to be conducted in a manner that, in the opinion of the Minister, will best support the attainment of the immigration goals established by the Government of Canada.

...the Minister may give instructions with respect to the processing of applications and requests, including instructions

- (a) establishing categories of applications or requests to which the instructions apply;
- (b) establishing an order, by category or otherwise, for the processing of applications or requests;
- (c) setting the number of applications or requests, by category or otherwise, to be processed in any year; and
- (d) providing for the disposition of applications and requests, including those made subsequent to the first application or request.

IF APPLICATION CONTAINS H & C REQUEST:

You had also requested that your application be considered on humanitarian and compassionate grounds. However, requests made on the basis of humanitarian and compassionate grounds accompanying a Federal Skilled Worker application cannot be processed unless the application is otherwise eligible for processing under the Ministerial Instructions.

Any original documents you submitted with your application are being returned to you.

IF ONLY PROCESSING FEE WAS SUBMITTED:

The processing fee that you have paid is refundable. You will receive a cheque within four to six weeks.

IF PROCESSING FEE AND RPRF WAS SUBMITTED:

The processing fee and the Right of Permanent Residence Fee that you paid are refundable. You will receive a cheque within four to six weeks.

There are many ways to immigrate to Canada. Although you have not satisfied the requirements to apply under the Federal Skilled Worker class, you may qualify under another category. To learn more about your options, visit <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/immigrate/index.asp>.

Thank you for your interest in Canada.

Centralized Intake Office file number:

Dear Madam/Sir,

This refers to your application for permanent residence in Canada in the Federal Skilled Worker Class.

The Centralized Intake Office (CIO) in Sydney, Nova Scotia, informed you on DATE that you had 120 days from that date to submit a complete application, with all required forms and supporting documents, to our office. You were also informed that if you did not do so within the 120-day deadline, we would complete the eligibility determination on the basis of the information on file.

To date, you have not provided a complete application with all required forms and supporting documents. I have determined your eligibility on the basis of the information on file. This negative determination of eligibility for processing is final and your file has been closed.

The application fee you paid is refundable. The CIO has been notified and you will receive a cheque from Canada within 8 - 12 weeks.

Thank you for your interest in Canada.
